THIS MONTH IN OLD DIXIELAND!

Compatriots,

We are in the dog days of summer and I am most of you are like me and ready for cooler weather. August has been the month that we usually don't have many events, it is obvious why!

Many thanks to Camp #33 member Steve Primm for giving the battlefield tour a few weeks ago. Although I was not able to attend, Steve did an outstanding job and it was enjoyed by everyone. It is great to have an SCV member that knows so much about our local battle as well as military tactics.

Congratulations to Jason Boshers on being elected to Army of Tennessee Commander!

Our flag order is in and if you want a specific flag, email me and let me know, I will bring it to the next meeting or we can arrange delivery. All sewn flags are $20, we have Battle flags, 1st, 2nd and 3rd National flags available.

Everyone please keep Camp #33 member Jim Speakman in your prayers, he has been fighting a serious medical condition. Jim has been a member for many years and has done a lot of reenacting as well.

Keep on Recruiting!

Hooray for Dixie, Ole Confed

Salute to the Confederate Flag

I salute the Confederate flag with affection, reverence, and undying devotion, to the Cause for which it stands.

Edward Ward Carmack's Pledge To The South

"The SOUTH is a land that has known sorrows; it is a land that has broken the ashen crust and moistened it with tears; a land scarred and riven by the plowshare of war and billowed with the graves of her dead; but a land of legend, a land of song, a land of hallowed and heroic memories.

"To that land every drop of my blood, every fiber of my being, every pulsation of my heart, is consecrated forever. I was born of her womb; I was nurtured at her breast; and when my last hour shall come, I pray GOD that I may be pillowed upon her bosom and rocked to sleep within her tender and encircling arms."

Houston man gets more than 6 years in prison for attempting to blow up Confederate statue.

By Amir Vera, CNN Sun August 19, 2018

A 26-year-old man was sentenced to six and a half years in prison after he tried to blow up the Dick Dowling Confederate monument in Houston. Andrew Schneck had been charged with attempting to maliciously damage property receiving federal financial assistance, according to federal court documents. He pleaded guilty in March. The case went to federal court because Hermann Park, where the Dowling statue is located, receives federal funding for its maintenance. During the Civil War, Dowling had been hailed as a Confederate war hero in Houston, serving in the Jefferson Davis Guards. Schneck's sentencing comes one year after a Houston park ranger spotted him kneeling in the bushes near the Dowling statue on August 19, 2017. According to a criminal complaint, the ranger saw Schneck holding two small boxes containing "what appeared to be duct tape and wires." While Schneck was placing the boxes on the ground, the complaint said, he "took a clear plastic bottle appearing to be full of a clear liquid from one of the boxes" and then "proceeded to drink from the bottle, then immediately spit the liquid on the ground next him." Schneck then poured the contents of the bottle on the ground next to him. An analysis of the liquid later revealed it was "most likely nitroglycerin," which is "one of the world's most powerful explosives" when undiluted, the complaint read. The ranger also noticed a timer and wires near Schneck, the complaint said. "When asked ... if he wanted to harm the statue, Schneck responded that he did, and that he (Schneck) did not 'like that guy,'" the complaint said. In addition to the suspected nitroglycerin, authorities also found a white powder that was "most likely HMTD," or hexamethylene triperoxide diamine. "HMTD is used as an initiating, or primary explosive," the complaint said. Schneck's attempt to blow up the statue took place one week after the Unite the Right Rally in Charlottesville, Virginia, that left Heather Heyer dead.
